GET BACK, I'M WARNING YOU!!!!

JOHN, HERE I COME!!!

BETSY, THIS ONE'S FOR YOU!!!!

PLEASE DON'T HIT IT TO ME!!!!

THIS ONE IS GOING TO BE GOOD, I CAN FEEL IT!

J.D. HARTUNG, I THINK THIS ONE IS A LITTLE SHORT ...

DO YOU THINK HE'LL MAKE IT? I DON'T KNOW, IT COULD BE CLOSE ...

I'M GONNA RUN TO YOU!!!

I HOPE THIS ONE GOES OVER!!

"This is fun!" says Kris Butler holding her tassel so it won't blow in her face at Baccalaureate.

Smiling for the camera is Jon Winjum and Erik Methlie patiently awaiting the signal to start the procession of Baccalaureate.

"A cute threesome" is Lisa Murphy, Erik Methlie, and Julie Baker at the Senior Breakfast.

How sweet and innocent Corinne Kellogg looks before digging into her breakfast.

"I won! It's mine now!" Proclaims Brian Brown after winning the color T.V. at Project Graduation.

"What number was that?" asks Kirk Alexander while playing bingo at Project Graduation. On lookers are Eric Methlie, Lesa Merrit, and Dan Alexander.

A TRIBUTE TO THE CLASS OF 1985

Goodbyes have different meanings to us all. It is a time when emptiness is felt, a time when love for one another really shows through. Like a box, our friends fill the space in our hearts, and when they leave, there is emptiness.

I cannot speak for you, but I will not say goodbye. I must say hello. We must all live in the real world now; high school cannot cradle us any longer. I feel a certain love for life, but it does not overpower my love for my friends. The strings that attach us to one another do not have to be cut, just loosened enough so that each may grow to his own potential.

Fears dwell throughout me because I now know that I am in charge. I cannot lean on everyone for strength anymore. I must carry my own weight. Feeling like a child taking his first steps, I realize that I could fall at any time. But, if I do fall, I realize too that I must get up and start over again. My peers cannot always help me up. I also can't let the fear of hurting myself interfere, for if I did, I would never walk or run.

I think we all have the fear of being alone. It is a fear we cannot help but have. But we must proceed, and our memories will help us to succeed in life.

Goodbyes are only what we make them. Love is a part of it, as well as pain. But so many hellos are ahead! Cry for now, but never forget the love that holds us together.
